

Aura Bench WDF

Technical Specification

Aura Bench - WDF is a free standing convector which can be used together with WZD (beech board) as a bench. Its structure was designed to hold up to 100kg. Heat exchanger technology allows hot air to be released through the grid to its surrounding without undesirable release of its heat to the convectors body. WDF is for the finished floor.

Material of the Casing, Legs and Holders

Casing is made from 1.3mm galvanised steel, legs and holders for the bench are made from 1.5mm galvanised steel. Convector can hold up to 100kg.

Material of the Heat Exchanger

Heat exchanger is made from copper pipes and aluminium lamellas. The diameter of the pipes is 15.9mm with 0.4mm of thickness. Endings are with 1/2" connections.

Water Connection

Right and left connection is possible, needs to be specified. In the standard delivery there is a hole for thermostatic head. If actuator will be used, side with the hole for the thermostatic head could be changed for the side without the hole, needs to be specified.
